Pope's Message

Dear Brothers and Sisters!

“You also are my witnesses, because you have been with me” (Jn 15:27).

As I begin my first message to you, I would like to say thank you! Thank you for the joy you brought when you came to Rome for your Jubilee, and thank you to all the young people who were united to us through their prayer from every part of the world. It was a precious moment for renewing our enthusiasm for the faith and sharing the hope that burns in our hearts! Rather than being an isolated event, I hope the Jubilee encounter marks for each of you a step forward in Christian life and a strong encouragement to persevere in witnessing to your faith.

That same dynamic is at the heart of the next World Youth Day, which we will celebrate on 23 November, Solemnity of Christ the King, with the theme: “You also are my witnesses, because you have been with me” (Jn 15:27). As pilgrims of hope, by the power of the Holy Spirit, we prepare ourselves to become courageous witnesses of Christ. Let us begin a journey that will lead us to the international World Youth Day in Seoul in 2027. With this in mind, I would like to focus on two aspects of witness: our friendship with Jesus, which we receive from God as a gift, and our commitment to be builders of peace in society.

Friends, therefore witnesses

Christian witness arises from friendship with the Lord, who was crucified and rose for the salvation of all. This witness is not to be confused with ideological propaganda, for it is an authentic principle of interior transformation and social awareness. Jesus chose to call his disciples “friends.” He made known to them the Kingdom of God, asked them to remain with him, to become his community, and sent them to proclaim the Gospel (cf. Jn 15:15, 27). So when Jesus tells us, “Be witnesses,” he is assuring us that he considers us as his friends. He alone fully knows who we are and why we are here; young people, he knows your heart, your indignation in the face of discrimination and injustice, your desire for truth and beauty, for joy and peace. Through his friendship, he listens to you, motivates you, and guides you, calling each of you to a new life.

The gaze of Jesus, who always wants nothing but our good, precedes us (cf. Mk 10:21). He does not want us to be servants, nor “activists” of a political party; he calls us to be with him as friends, so that our lives may be renewed. And witness arises spontaneously from the joyful newness of this friendship. It is a unique friendship that grants us communion with God, a faithful friendship that helps us discover our dignity and that of others, an eternal friendship that not even death can destroy, because the risen and crucified Lord is its source.

Let us consider the message the Apostle John gives us at the end of the fourth Gospel: “This is the disciple who is bearing witness to these things, and who has written these things; and we know that his testimony is true” (Jn 21:24). The entire preceding account is summarized as a “testimony,” full of gratitude and wonder, from a disciple who never reveals his name, but calls himself “the disciple whom Jesus loved.” This title reflects a relationship: it is not the name of an individual, but the testimony of a personal bond with Christ. That is what really matters to John: being a disciple of the Lord and feeling loved by him. We understand, then, that Christian witness is the fruit of a relationship of faith and love with Jesus, in whom we find the salvation of our lives. What the Apostle John writes also refers to you, dear young people. You are invited by Christ to follow him and sit beside him, to listen to his heart and share closely in his life! Each one of you is a “beloved disciple” for him, and from this love comes the joy of witness.

Another courageous witness to the Gospel is the Precursor of Jesus, John the Baptist, who came “to bear witness to the light, that all might believe through him” (Jn 1:7). Although he enjoyed great fame among the people, he knew well that he was only a “voice” pointing to the Savior when he exclaimed, “Behold, the Lamb of God” (Jn 1:36). His example reminds us that true witnesses do not seek to occupy the center stage, nor to bind their followers to themselves. True witnesses are humble and inwardly free, above all from themselves, that is, from the pretense of being the center of attention. Therefore, they are free to listen, to understand, and also to speak the truth to everyone, even in the presence of those who are powerful. From John the Baptist, we learn that Christian witness is neither a proclamation of ourselves nor a celebration of our spiritual, intellectual or moral abilities. True witness is recognizing and pointing to Jesus when he appears, as he is the only one who saves us. John recognized him among sinners, immersed in common humanity. To that end, Pope Francis insisted so often that if we do not go beyond ourselves and our comfort zones, if we do not go to the poor and those who feel excluded from the Kingdom of God, we cannot encounter Christ and bear witness to him. We lose the sweet joy of being evangelized and of evangelizing.

Dear friends, I invite each of you to continue to individuate Jesus' friends and witnesses in the Bible. As you read the Gospel, you will find that they all discovered the true meaning of life through their living relationship with Christ. Indeed, our deepest questions are not heard or answered by endlessly scrolling on our cell phones, which captures our attention but leaves us with tired minds and empty hearts. This search will not take us far if we keep it closed within ourselves or in narrow confinements. The fulfillment of our authentic desires always comes through going beyond ourselves.

Witnesses, therefore missionaries

In this way, dear young people, with the help of the Holy Spirit, you can become missionaries of Christ in the world. Many of your peers are exposed to violence, forced to use weapons, separated from their loved ones, and compelled to migrate or flee. Many lack education and other essential goods. All share with you the search for meaning and the insecurity that accompanies it, the discomfort of growing social and work pressures, the difficulty of dealing with family crises, the painful feeling of a lack of opportunities, as well as the remorse for mistakes they have made. You can stand alongside other young people, walk with them and show that God, in Jesus, has drawn close to each person. As Pope Francis often said, “Christ shows that God is closeness, compassion and tender love” (Encyclical Letter Dilexit nos, 35).

Granted, it is not always easy to bear witness. In the Gospels, we often find tension between acceptance and rejection of Jesus: “The light shines in the darkness, and the darkness has not overcome it” (Jn 1:5). Similarly, the disciple-witness experiences rejection firsthand and sometimes even violent opposition. The Lord does not hide this painful reality: “If they persecuted me, they will persecute you” (Jn 15:20). However, it becomes an opportunity to put into practice the greatest commandment: “Love your enemies and pray for those who persecute you” (Mt 5:44). That is what the martyrs have done since the beginning of the Church.

Dear young people, this is not a story that belongs only to the past. To this day, in many places around the world, Christians and people of good will suffer persecution, deceit and violence. Perhaps this painful experience has marked you as well, and you may have been tempted to react instinctively by putting yourselves on the same level as those who have rejected you, adopting aggressive attitudes. But let us recall the wise advice of Saint Paul: “Do not be overcome by evil, but overcome evil with good” (Rom 12:21).

So do not be discouraged: like the saints, you too are called to persevere with hope, especially in the face of difficulties and obstacles.

Fraternity as a bond of peace

From friendship with Christ, which is a gift of the Holy Spirit within us, there arises a way of life that bears the character of fraternity. Young people who have encountered Christ bring the “warmth” and “flavor” of fraternity wherever they go, and anyone who comes into contact with them is drawn into a new and profound dimension, made up of selfless closeness, sincere compassion and genuine tenderness. The Holy Spirit enables us to see our neighbor with new eyes: in the other person there is a brother, a sister!

The witness of fraternity and peace that friendship with Christ awakens in us casts off indifference and spiritual laziness, helping us to overcome closed-mindedness and suspicion. It also builds bonds between us, urging us to work together, from volunteerism to “political charity,” to build new living conditions for all. Do not follow those who use the words of faith to divide; instead, make plans to remove inequalities and reconcile divided and oppressed communities. To that end, dear friends, let us listen to the voice of God within us and overcome our selfishness, becoming active artisans of peace. That peace, which is a gift of the risen Lord (cf. Jn 20:19), will become visible in the world through the common witness of those who carry his Spirit in their hearts.

Dear young people, in the face of the world's sufferings and hopes, let us fix our gaze on Jesus. As he was dying on the cross, he entrusted the Virgin Mary to John as his mother, and John to her as her son. That ultimate gift of love is for every disciple, for each of us. I invite you to welcome this holy bond with Mary, a mother full of affection and understanding, and to cultivate it in particular by praying the Rosary. That way, in every situation of our life, we will experience that we are never alone, for as children we are always loved, forgiven and encouraged by God. Bear witness to this joyfully!

Bishop's Message

Dear Rev. Fathers, Religious and People of God,

On the 1st of November, we celebrate the memory of all the known and unknown saints who enjoy the blessedness of beholding the face of God and participate in His heavenly banquet. The celebration should help us to revive in us the desire for our sanctification and the hope of heaven where our holy brethren await us. I wish you all a happy feast of all saints.

Having honored the triumphant church in heaven on November 1st, the Church on earth honors the members of the Church suffering in purgatory on November 2nd, thus demonstrating the supernatural bond of communion of saints. The Church teaches us that the souls in purgatory are helped by our daily prayers, by our charitable actions to the poor and offering of Holy Masses. We learn from the history that praying for the departed souls, giving alms in their names and offering masses had already existed and it is seen in the Book of Maccabees.

The souls in purgatory, being unable to help themselves, depend on the prayers of the pilgrim church for their redemption. Offering of our prayers and sacrifices for the departed souls, do not leave them forgotten or abandoned. It brings benefits to ourselves, too, inasmuch as it helps us to change our lives, to avoid sins and to prepare ourselves for a good and holy death. Let us be generous in helping them through our prayers and works of charity, for what is given to them will come back to us a hundredfold reward. The day will come when we and they will stand together in the heavenly court, beholding the face of God, in the glorious company of the angels and saints, and join in their unending hymn of praise.

Please instruct your parishioners to offer masses, prayers and alms giving in the name of the departed souls, requesting them to visit the cemeteries during this month. Plenary indulgence applicable only to souls in purgatory is granted to any of the faithful who on any day from 1 to 8 November visit the cemetery. It is our duty and obligation to pray for our deceased bishops, priests and religious who exercised their ministry in our diocese.

Yours devotedly in Christ

Bible Commission

The Bible Commission is pleased to report the successful completion of the fourth and fifth classes of the Seventh Cycle of the Certificate Course, held on September 28 and October 26, 2025, respectively, at Jeeva Jyothi Ashram, Bishop's House, Coimbatore. The sessions witnessed an enthusiastic response, with approximately 90 participants attending the fourth class and 110 participants attending the fifth class. The strong turnout reflected the participants' growing zeal and dedication to deepening their understanding of the Sacred Scriptures.

Both sessions were conducted by Rev. Fr. C. Lawrence, who led the participants through the theme of the Gospel of Mark with remarkable insight and theological clarity. He began each session by briefly recapping the content of previous classes, then engaged participants through interactive discussions and reflective questions designed to foster active learning. He emphasized that each of the four evangelists can be regarded as a theologian, presenting Jesus Christ from a unique perspective shaped by the spiritual needs of their respective communities.

In particular, Fr. C. Lawrence highlighted that Mark's Gospel portrays Jesus as an enigmatic and tragic figure, misunderstood by his disciples and ultimately abandoned by them. In Mark's understanding, true discipleship is defined by the call to take up one's Cross and follow Jesus. He also shared that, according to early Church tradition, St. Mark, a disciple of St. Peter, composed the first written Gospel. It is widely accepted that this Gospel was written in Rome, primarily addressing a Christian community facing persecution.

Fr. C. Lawrence summarized his presentation by highlighting the following key themes from the Gospel of Mark:

1. The Beginning of Jesus' Mission 2. The Central Question:

“Who is Jesus?” 3. Jesus as the Son of God 4. Jesus as the Messiah 5. Jesus as the Son of Man. He also offered an in-depth explanation of a distinctive feature of Mark's Gospel known as the Messianic Secret — Jesus' repeated instructions to conceal His identity after performing miracles or exorcisms (Mk 1:25, 34, 43–44; 3:11–12; 5:43; 7:35–36; 8:30; 9:9). He explained that this secrecy arose from the people's misunderstanding of the Messiah as a political liberator, whereas Jesus' mission was spiritual and redemptive.

In his concluding reflections, Fr. Lawrence affirmed that the Gospel of Mark stands as a profound theological meditation on the mystery of the Cross. The entire narrative is illuminated by the shadow of the Cross, culminating in the complete revelation of Jesus' divine identity through His suffering, death, and resurrection. He emphasized that salvation is found only in the crucified and risen Lord, whose final command remains ever relevant: “Go into all the world and preach the gospel to the whole creation” (Mk 16:15). He urged all participants to embrace this missionary spirit, allowing the message of Mark's Gospel to inspire them in their personal faith journey and in their witness to the Word of God.

I extend my heartfelt gratitude to Most Rev. Dr. L. Thomas Aquinas, Bishop of Coimbatore, for his constant support and prayers. My sincere thanks also go to Very Rev. Msgr. John Joseph Stanis, Vicar General, Fr. Antony Jesuraj, Director of the Pastoral Centre and Rev. Fr. J. Antony Selvaraj, Procurator. Special appreciation is also due to Mr. Alphonse, Mr. Ruben Jeyaraj, Miss Prabha, and Mr. Leo for their meticulous arrangements. Dear Fathers and Sisters,

DOMESTIC WORKERS' CLUSTER FORMATION

A comprehensive domestic survey was conducted across Coimbatore, Pollachi, Kinathukadavu, Valparai, Udumalpet, and Aanamalai to organize domestic workers. The initiative successfully visited and formed approximately 20 local clusters. The process involved coordinators meeting workers individually to raise awareness about the significant benefits of forming a union, including collective bargaining, legal rights, and social security. Following these one-on-one discussions, clusters were formed within specific local territories to ensure geographical cohesion and easy coordination. From each cluster, a representative leader was democratically chosen. These leaders are now being integrated into a core team. This foundational structure is a critical first step towards building a robust, representative union for domestic workers in the region, empowering them to advocate for their rights and welfare collectively. The groundwork has laid a strong foundation for future union formation.

AYUDHA POOJA CELEBRATION

The recent Ayudha Pooja celebration across all our centres was a profound day of Thanksgiving, dedicated to expressing our collective gratitude to God. The primary focus of our prayers was to thank the Divine for the abundant natural resources bestowed upon humanity. In a special ceremony, vehicles and tools were sanctified, symbolizing our respect for the instruments that aid our work. Heartfelt prayers were also offered for the well-being of farmers and for a prosperous agricultural yield, acknowledging their vital role in our society.

Each centre, in wonderful coordination with their respective regional federation teams, organized their own program, leading to a spiritually uplifting and wonderful gathering at every location. The celebrations were graciously concluded with a blessing from the Director at the CMSSS, marking a truly memorable and harmonious event for our entire community.

DIWALI CELEBRATION AT CMSSS

A serene Diwali celebration was held at CMSSS on October 18th, attended by the coordinators and office staff. The event beautifully commemorated the profound meaning and purpose of the festival of lights, focusing on the victory of light over darkness and good over evil. The gathering began with a collective prayer, seeking divine blessings for prosperity, wisdom, and peace for all. The prayer and ceremony were solemnly conducted by Fr. Tellis Roch, who eloquently connected the traditional rituals to our spiritual and professional lives. His words served as a meaningful reminder to carry the inner light of knowledge and compassion into our community work. The celebration fostered a warm, reflective atmosphere, reinforcing unity and shared purpose among the team. It was a dignified and spiritually enriching occasion for all participants.

Project HAND

Educational Support Program Funded by Mr. Frantisek Janda

1.0 Introduction & Project Conception

CMSSS initiated Project HAND to support the education of deserving children from underprivileged backgrounds in the Udumalpet region (90km from Coimbatore). A ten-day baseline survey, aided by local coordinators and leaders, identified 200 children across 40+ villages. The project was strategically focused on 20 villages for effective budget utilization. A stakeholder meeting with local sisters and teachers in mid-August determined the specific needs, leading to a finalized list of materials for procurement and distribution.

2.0 Materials Procured

A comprehensive range of materials was procured for students from Grades 1 to 12.

1. Educational Supplies: School bags, notebooks, guides, pens, pencils, geometry boxes, calculators, A4 sheets, charts, and stationery.

2. Recreational Materials: Football, volleyball, cricket kit, carrom boards, chess, and other sports equipment to attract children, aid concentration, and prevent school drop-outs.

3.0 Project Team

The successful implementation was driven by:

- Fr. Tellis Roch (Chief Functionary)
- Mrs. Jegajothi & Mrs. Jayanthi (Field Coordinators)
- Mr. Saminathan, Sr. Andrews FMM, Mr. Arun (Support Team)

4.0 Distribution Methodology

A decentralized model ensured efficient reach. Materials were purchased centrally and allocated to two pick-up points. Tuition teachers collected the supplies for their respective centres and managed the final distribution to the 200 children in their local villages.

5.0 Outcomes & Impact

The program directly benefited 200 deserving children, providing them with essential educational tools. This initiative has fostered a supportive connection with the community, encouraged school attendance through recreational activities, and made a tangible positive change in the children's educational journey.

6.0 Acknowledgments

We extend our profound gratitude to Mr. Frantisek Janda for his generous donation, which made Project HAND possible. We thank him for his trust in CMSSS and assure him that his noble intention has been sincerely and effectively implemented, creating a lasting impact on the lives of the children.

The response from the public was highly encouraging, with many visitors appreciating the uniqueness, quality, and affordability of the products on display. The interaction with consumers and successful sales significantly boosted the confidence and morale of the SHG members, reinforcing the value of their skills and efforts. In addition to generating direct income, the stall helped strengthen market linkages and build lasting community connections. Overall, the event proved to be a meaningful and successful step toward empowering local communities and promoting self-reliance through entrepreneurship.
